THAT the Agenda for the Regular Meeting of October 4, 2016 be approved as submitted.

The motion was CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY.

4 | RESULTS FOCUS

4.1 Ernest Morrow School Presentation

Director D. Yee, Area III, introduced the presentation, noting that the presenters would provide a snapshot of personal development as it is learned and lived by students at Ernest Morrow School. She noted that in practice our citizenship, character and personal development results are often intertwined and this would be in evidence through the students' presentation. Dr. Yee introduced and called forward Principal C. Malette and Grade 8 students Bacheira and Wendy.

Ms. Malette informed that over the past year she has observed Wendy and Bacheira spending quality learning time identifying and developing their individual gifts, talents and interests. They have learned and practiced their skills in taking initiative, being resilient, embracing ambiguity and perseverance.

Bacheira and Wendy shared their learning experience with taking on a leadership role in a class project on how to improve their community. A PowerPoint slideshow was shared with their presentation. They spoke of how the students collaboratively made the decision to work with senior citizens from Clifton Manor to help them to experience a higher quality of life through recreation. They shared the initiatives they undertook throughout the project planning stages, which evolved to the conception of a short-term hockey league of senior citizens and Grade 7 students, to run on Fridays. They commented on the challenges they faced in relation to managing and organizing time schedules, being flexible, resilient and meeting goals, and how they and their classmates learned about empathy, the importance of personal well-being and how to help people to become engaged and participate in leadership activities.

On behalf of the Board of Trustees, Trustee King expressed appreciation for the presentation, and she thanked the students for their admirable leadership and representation of themselves, their school and their community.

5 | OPERATIONAL EXPECTATIONS

5.1 OE-3: Treatment of Owners – Annual Monitoring

Chief Superintendent Stevenson noted that even though there is reported non-compliance with policy subsection 3.1, indicator 1.a, overall compliance is being reported for OE-3: Treatment of Owners. He reviewed the issue in detail and commented on the capacity building in relation to the issues, which is noted at the end of the report.

Administration responded to trustee questions on issues including: clarification on the statement made for policy subsection 3.1, indicator 3; the reliability of the internal tracking methods to effectively handle complaints; and the rationale behind the statement under policy 3.1 that the development and implementation of systematic processes for the comprehensive strategic records management program will be a multi-year endeavour.

Chair Bowen-Eyre asked trustees to identify their intentions to bring forward any motions related to compliance, exceptions or commendations for OE-3: Treatment of Owners. She requested that trustees send their proposed motions to the Corporate Secretary and to all trustees by the end of day October 5, 2016, and noted that if no motions come forward the item will be placed on the October 11, 2016 Consent Agenda, indicating that the Board finds the Chief Superintendent to be in compliance with the provisions of OE-3: Treatment of Owners.

5.2 Community Engagement Framework – Presentation

Chief Superintendent Stevenson provided opening remarks, noting that this commitment to improving engagement at the Calgary Board of Education began approximately 18 months ago. He noted that the creation of a coherent, consistent public engagement framework that reasonably includes people in decisions that affect them was supported by Superintendents' Team in May 2015. This has been an area of focus in the CBE's Three-Year Education Plan, and the importance of having a coherent process is highlighted in the impending Education Act.

Chief Stevenson called on Ms. Martin-Esposito, Chief Communications Officer, to give the presentation, which was aided by a PowerPoint slideshow. Ms. K. Drummond, Community Engagement Manager and project manager on the framework, assisted with the presentation. Highlights of the presentation are summarized as follows:

- Over the past year much work and many voices have gone into the development of this community engagement framework, which is referred to as dialogue.
- The goal of the framework is to ensure people have the opportunity to be heard, to share their perspectives and participate in decisions.
- Ten key lessons that have been learned from previous engagements are:
 1. leadership commitment is essential;

2. stakeholder needs and expectations are at the centre of planning;
 3. it is important for people to understand the “why” – the full scope of the decision and the factors to consider, and that it is explained clearly, concisely and often;
 4. engagement takes time, thought and planning;
 5. diverse experiences and perspectives make us stronger;
 6. engagement is an ongoing investment;
 7. staff have an important dual role in engagement;
 8. engagement is more than communication – it focuses more on listening to what others need and then incorporates that into what needs to be done;
 9. little fixes can make a big difference – engagements can uncover hidden opportunities to improve; and
 10. dialogue is ongoing.
- A video that provides an overview of the dialogue framework was shared and it is posted on the CBE website; it will be used as part of the training materials.
 - It will take time to embed engagement into decision-making – it amounts to almost 120,000 students, more than 60,000 families and approximately 14,000 staff being educated, supported and involved in this process.

Trustees posed questions, which were addressed by Administration, on issues including: the challenges and barriers in relation to engaging families whose first language is not English, and those barriers will be reduced; and budgeting for the dedication of resources to the work surrounding engagement.

A few trustees individually acknowledged the time and efforts that have gone into this work by CBE Administration and staff, and expressed their appreciation.
