

“Students came away from the week with a much deeper appreciation of the library and the services it provides, along with a sincere interest in the plans for the New Central Library (many of them mentioned they’d be there opening day!).” Teacher

“Our week at Library School was a fantastic opportunity to learn more about our Calgary public libraries and the services they provide, as well as the importance of stories and how we connect with each other through stories.” Teacher

LIBRARY SCHOOL CALGARY PUBLIC LIBRARY

Throughout their week, Library School students engage in a diversity of programs inspired by the library experience, such as writing, local history, information and media literacy, words, books, listening, drawing and language. The building itself inspires a sense of wonder and acts as a playground of discovery. From the latest technology and e-resources to our oldest texts (some dating back to the 1700's!)

students can seek the answers to their “big idea” in so many ways. They might start their day sketching the automated handling machine as it sorts and delivers book (a hypnotic experience!), use the theatre to act out a favorite picture book or take advantage of one of our most important resources: our living Library which includes amazing staff, volunteers, and community partners.
