New schools opening in September

Buffalo Rubbing Stone School will not be ready to open on Sept. 6 due to construction delays.

- BRSS students will be temporarily located at either Alex Munro School or Panorama Hills School depending on their grade.
- We expect the school to be open on Sept. 26.
- Parents were aware of the potential for a delay in June. We are keeping them updated as details of the opening become available.

Peter Loughheed School opening may be delayed by a few days due to rain.

- We expect to open the school on Sept. 9.
- We have informed parents and will keep them updated.
- Students will receive the number of instructional hours they are entitled to even if their first day of school is later.
- We have asked parents to make child care arrangements for Sept. 6, 7 and 8 and we are connecting with our partners in the Saddle Ridge area to see if activities can be arranged for students.

New and replacement schools opening in January

Schools opening in January 2017:

- Dr. Roberta Bondar School, K-4 (Aspen Woods)
- Eric Harvie School, K-4 (Tuscany)
- Hugh A. Bennett School, K-4 (Saddle Ridge)
- West Ridge School, 5-9 (West Springs/Cougar Ridge)
- Dr. George Stanley School, 5-9 (Cranston)
- Dr. Martha Cohen School, 5-9 (Copperfield/New Brighton)
- McKenzie Highlands School, 4-9 (McKenzie Towne)
- Aboriginal Learning Centre, pre-K-3

School within a School

- All of our new schools that are opening for the 2016-17 school year will have students, teachers and staff to start this new school year, regardless of the opening date of their new building.
- If their new building is not scheduled to open until January, schools will operate a school within a school at a temporary location(s).
- Students will be in classes with the same teachers and classmates as they will have when their new school opens in January.
- These details have been shared with parents and updates are added to the school websites as new information becomes available.

New schools scheduled for opening in 2017-18
